

Mr Patrick Butler

Vice President, Programs, International Center for Journalists

Mr Patrick Butler oversees the development and execution of ICFJ programmes and supervises programme personnel. He previously worked as a reporter and writer for 10 years at The State (Columbia, S.C.) working on general assignment, business, and feature news. Before joining The State, he worked at the Spartanburg Herald-Journal, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and the San Jose Mercury News. Butler completed a five-month Knight International Press Fellowship in Nicaragua in 1999. He has a BA in Spanish and Journalism from the University of Missouri.