

Dr J Michael McQuade

Senior Vice President, Science and Technology, United Technologies Corporation

Dr J Michael McQuade is Senior Vice President for Science and Technology at United Technologies Corporation. His responsibilities include providing strategic oversight and guidance for research, engineering, and development activities throughout the business units of the Corporation and at the United Technologies Research Center. He also provides leadership to UTC Power, UTC's business responsible for the research, design, commercialization, and aftermarket support of stationary and transportation fuel cells. Dr McQuade holds doctorate, Master of Science, and Bachelor of Science degrees in physics from Carnegie Mellon University. He is a member of the American Physical Society, Board of Directors of Project HOPE, the U.S. Department of Energy's Secretary of Energy Advisory Board (SEAB) as well as advisory boards for several schools of engineering.