

Mr Jacob E Moss

Director, U.S. Cookstoves Initiatives, Office of the Secretary of State, Global Partnership Initiatives, U.S. Department of State

Mr Jacob Moss is the Director of U.S. Cookstoves Initiatives in the Secretary of State's Office of Global Partnerships at the U.S. Department of State. Mr Moss was instrumental in conceiving and developing the Global Alliance for Clean Cookstoves. He served for ten years as a senior energy and international air quality advisor at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Mr Moss has held additional positions with GE Capital Corporation, the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection, Clean Water Action, Peace Corps, and IBM. He holds a Master in Public Affairs from Princeton University, and a BS in Engineering Physics from Cornell University.